THE SILVER TIE.

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Stanton's Twenty-fifth Anniversary.

EVENT AT BEARDSTOWN.

of Presents and Description in Detail-Wishes of Many Friends.

One of the most brilliant and cordial social events that has ever Smith, Fred Eleich, Frank Bohrman the observance of the twenty-fifth wedding anniversary of Spalding and the Misses Battles, Mr. and Mrs. J. Over 200 invited friends of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Stanton assembled last evening at their charming home to help them celebrate the silver an-

The guests were ushered into the by the bride and grooms of 25 years. Mrs. Stanton received in a becoming costume of cream China silk trimmed with pink satin and silk lace -a sixteenth century gown-and were diamond jewels, while the groom looked real smooth in a neatly fitting suit of black. Among those who were present from abroad and assisted materially in entertaining the large assemblage were Mrs. R. Keith, of Milwaukee, Wis., and Misses Florence and Julia Battles, of Rock Island.

Elaborate Decorations. The house and lawn [decorations were in charming taste. The surroundings were such as to make the guests feel as though they were in a conservatory or flower garden, so use were the floral adornments and so rich was the fragrance. The toses, geraniums, star jessamine, smilax, ivy and many other flowers and vines were greatly admired. But next to the bride and groom, the center of attraction was the magnificent array of presents, hence when the hour arrived for the grand prescattation, which was announced by that prince of good fellows. Phil Kuhl, everybody made an effort to get to the front. Judge Charles Cummings had been selected as the gentleman to make the presentation talk, and right eleverly did he express the sentiment and wish of all. As he proceeded in his usual happy way, there was one sentence that particularly struck a responsive chord in the hearts of all. It was this: "You have reached your silver mile-post. We wish your jourmey on through life to the Golden Gate as pleasant as the past 25 years have been; we hope that the bright Thus do we rejoice. star of Bethlehem may guide you safely, hale and hearty, to the threshold of the diamond line, and there may you be greeted as you to-night have been." Mr. Stanton responded in an appreciative vein that was peculiarly his own.

At 9:30 notice was given that 90 persons could be accommodated at supper, the tables having been nicely arranged under a canvass canopy and this was repeated as fast as the tables were vacated until all had leasted to their hearts content.

The reception was one of general enjoyment and so cordial and happy were Mr. and Mrs. Stanton in their greeting and courtesies, it seemed that they were just married.
